Min gær jeg vil giøre mind om Lønnen og for aldrig, og Guds vilde som for det den gode Guds Pige. Jeg yndede dig og et givt alt det for at for det Guds Gode, men jeg med gode at den min Guds Lønnen, og lige tilfelde ingen agtning bringer besvare, men at det om Guds tilfælde dig at givt alt Guds større i din Maas for at brødt og Guds tilfælde. Guds vilde det gaar mig selv enstret og mig og for at vinde, ja det kan jeg regnetlig ikke sig og dig, og det er for for somme, ja ofte, men det er stort, og det nogle dage, og jeg tilkender som om jeg blot konstret og for det fra min gode Lønnen, og det faar jeg jo nu aldrig mere. Guds vilde Guds for Guds Lønnen har forstjænt mit Guds om det og min Lønnen blandt Lønnen

Handwritten text in cursive script, likely a letter or manuscript. The text is written on aged paper and includes a library stamp from Skovgaard-Museet, Copenhagen, dated 1895. The stamp is rectangular and contains the text "SKOVGAARD-MUSEET" and "København". The handwritten text is in Danish and appears to be a letter from a woman to a man, discussing various topics including family, health, and social matters. The text is written in a fluid, cursive hand typical of the 18th or 19th century.
